Thanks to those keeping an eye on the bandroom during the lockdown, particularly Neil and Julie.

We have heard from the daughter of Paul Sayers, who passed away on Christmas Eve after a 25 year battle with cancer, to say that Paul left a sum of money to the Band in his will. Paul was a huge supporter of the band and thoroughly enjoyed his time with us in the Learner Group

The Musical Director has been giving music lessons to members of the Learner Group through video-conferencing; he also tried a joint practice with 2 other families - his initial reluctance to do so proved right; the time lag made it impossible to keep together!
